IFA 2019: Speeddating & Master Minds @ IFA Global Markets

Taking place at STATION Berlin, IFA Global Markets is IFA's international sourcing platform for original design manufacturers (ODMs), original equipment manufacturer (OEMs), suppliers, component manufacturers and as yet undiscovered brands from around the world. IFA Global Markets is Europe's unique business opportunity for manufacturers, importers, distributors and retailers. Europe's most comprehensive B2B trading platform for the sourcing industry will be taking place over four days parallel to IFA from 8 to 11 September 2019.

IFA Meet & Match

For all those in search of business partners, this year's IFA Global Markets can help: IFA Meet & Match @ Global Markets will be bringing visitors and exhibitors together for business talks directly at the event. As an exclusive B2B platform, IFA Global Markets is open to trade visitors only.

In order to take part in this format and hold pre-arranged personal meetings with business partners please register and create your profile. The chance exists for a perfect match!

EXPERT TALKS

Taking part in the EXPERT TALKS will be experienced international buyers who regularly work together with private labels as well as OEM and ODM manufacturers from around the world. Moderated by Bob Snyder, editor-in-chief of Channel Media Europe, the IFA GLOBAL MARKETS EXPERT TALKS will provide an insight into the industry's latest developments, opportunities and challenges.

Confirmed speakers:

- Anouk Groen, CMF Trend Forecaster, RnA Design NV
- Adam Simon, Global Managing Director, CONTEXTworld
- Nick Graves, CEO, Aquilla Europe
- Paul Weedman, Director of Victure Industrial CO., Limited of China

About IFA Global Markets

With IFA Global Markets, a new format was added to the IFA portfolio in 2016. Since then, Europe's largest and most important sourcing market has grown year after year. This is where customers and partners of the Consumer and Home Electronics industries can meet suppliers, component manufacturers, ODMs and OEMs.

Covering 20,000 square meters, this marketplace is located at STATION Berlin near Potsdamer Platz. Reserved exclusively for trade visitors, this year's event will once again present a large selection of innovative components and software products.

From 8 to 11 September, on all four days of the event, a free shuttle service will provide transport between Berlin Tegel Airport, Messe Berlin and STATION Berlin. A trade visitor ticket to IFA is valid for admission to IFA and IFA Global Markets @Station Berlin.
